Aviation Executive & Leadership Team Emergency Response Familiarization Training – 3 Days

Introduction

Emergency Response Planning (ERP) is all about planning for an eventuality we strive to ensure will never happen. In fact, there is an opinion that the more prepared the organisation, then the less likely the event. Nevertheless, airlines need to have the capacity to deal with any unforeseen event from the smallest to the largest.

This course is specifically designed for the Accountable Executive and Leadership Team who will be called on to manage a crisis and need to have a strong understanding of roles responsibilities and control methodologies.

This course provides an insight into your expected role in an emergency, considering the effectiveness of your current ERP by performing a detailed gap analysis. Moving onto consider implementation of any additional elements together with processes to drive improvements.

This course is highly practical with multiple workshop activities to ensure full engagement.

Course attendees will be provided with free access to the following online course:

Safety Management Systems Risk Monitoring and Safety Performance Overview and Recurrent
