Part 66 & 147 Combined Regulatory Training – Essentials – 1 Day

INTRODUCTION

This one day “essentials” Part 66 & Part 147 combined 7 training course reviews Part-66/147 in detail and helps define roles and responsibility together with understanding the challenges to achieve the various objectives. The course covers in a step by step approach the link between EASA Part 147 & EASA part 66 and how this should be documented within the approved training organisation through the Maintenance Training Organisation Exposition. (MTOE)

Delegates are encouraged to interact and group discussions and dialogue are very much encouraged. The goal of all SAS training is to not just understand the regulations but to consider the organisational challenges and best practice processes to address any perceived issues

At SAS we specialise in EASA regulations and staying at the forefront of what is happening in industry. This course is suitable for “Experts” as well as beginners and delivers a full understanding of Part 147 training organisation functionality together with Part 66 Licence aircraft Engineer Basic and theoretical training process.

The course will satisfy both business area owners / managers as well as nominated persons / Post Holders as to their specific responsibility to ensure organisation compliance with the regulation.

Who is the Course for?

It is for anyone with an interest to get deeper into EASA Part 147 & Part 66 from newcomers to Post Holders (Training Managers) through to Accountable Executives who need a deeper understanding of Individual and Organisational Obligations.

The knowledge and competence developed through this course will support you to help your organisation demonstrate and maintain compliance.

Consider that understanding the regulation is the starting point – The real advantage is optimising the business in the best way whilst remaining fully compliant with EASA Part 147 requirements.

Part 66 & 147 Combined Regulatory Training – Essentials – 1 Day

What Makes SAS EASA Part 66 & 147 Combined Regulatory Training - Essentials - 1 Day Different?

Because our courses are written by people who have lived through the regulations, from the introduction in the 90's as JAR147/ 66 through to the transfer to EASA 145 in 2003. EASA Part 147/ 66 has gone through several revisions over the years and the changes and obligations are clearly explained throughout the training course.

At Sofema Aviation Services our focus is on accepting that compliance with EASA Regulations is in fact minimum compliance. Interpreting the regulations in a way which enables the development and optimisation of our business is where we should see opportunity to drive efficiencies and cost saving.
