

HEMS Regulatory Training – 3 Days

Introduction

The Helicopter Emergency Ambulance Service is a unique and challenging mix of aviation and emergency medical service. It is very demanding, requiring various areas of knowledge and skills on the management and the responding personnel as well, starting from aircraft selection, base selection, dispatching, medical procedures, training, hospital heliport issues.

Following the implementation of EU Part-OPS, all aviation activities within the HEMS and air ambulance operation are governed by this regulation, and by international and national civil aviation standards and laws.

The course provides guidelines on various aspects of the Helicopter Emergency Medical Services.
