

European Council Regulation 2018/1139 Training Review for CAMO Staff – 1 Day

Introduction

On 11th September 2018 entered in force the new EASA Basic Regulation No 1139/2018 which repeals the existing Regulation (EU) 216/2008. The so-called new Basic Regulation formalizes EASA's role in the domain of drones and urban air mobility, enabling the Agency to prepare rules for all sizes of civil drones and harmonize standards for the commercial market across Europe.

The regulation enlarges the Agency's role in areas such as environmental protection, research, and development, or international cooperation.

The new mandate also gives EASA a coordinating role in cybersecurity in aviation.

This new mandate consolidates EASA's scope to cover the full spectrum of the aviation landscape and reinforces the European aviation system as a whole, with the possibility for EASA and the European Member States to work closely together in a flexible way. This training is specifically focused on the key oversight responsibilities of EASA Competent Authorities.
