

EASA Part T Regulatory Obligations - 1 Day

Introduction

This 1-day course focuses on the obligations faced by an organization when dry leasing an aircraft into an EU Regulatory Compliant Jurisdiction. (Member State)

Article 1(b) and Article 3(5) of Commission Regulation (EU) No 1321/2014, as amended by Commission Regulation (EU) 2015/1536, establish the applicability of Annex Va (Part-T) to aircraft registered in a third country for which their regulatory safety oversight has not been delegated to a Member State when they are dry leased-in by an air carrier licensed in accordance with Regulation (EC) No 1008/2008.

This means that the provisions of Part-T are not applicable to aircraft registered in a third country for which their regulatory safety oversight has been delegated to a Member State. In such a case, Article 1(a)(ii) stipulates that the provisions of Part-M are applicable.

A CAMO-T (Continuous Airworthiness Management Organisation (T) is an organization approved in accordance with Part-M Subpart G which in addition complies with the requirements of Part-T subpart-G CAME-T shall contain procedures specifying how the CAMO-T ensures compliance with Part-T Subpart G.

What is the Benefit of this Training – What will I learn?

- a) The course provides a comprehensive understanding of the regulatory obligations outlined in EASA Part T. By attending the course, participants will gain clarity on the specific requirements and obligations that need to be met to ensure compliance with the regulations.
- b) It delves into the details of Part T, offering participants an in-depth knowledge of the regulations. This includes topics such as continuing airworthiness management organizations (CAMOs), maintenance planning, record-keeping, and airworthiness review certificates. Such understanding enables organizations to effectively implement and adhere to regulatory obligations.
- c) By understanding the regulatory obligations outlined in Part T, organizations can optimize their operations. The course provides insights into best practices, procedures, and documentation requirements, which can enhance the efficiency of maintenance activities, planning, and record-keeping processes.
- d) Compliance with Part T regulations contributes to effective risk management and ensures safety in aviation operations. The course emphasizes safety principles and provides guidance on implementing safety management systems within the context of Part T obligations. Participants will learn how to identify and manage safety risks effectively.
